Monthly Book Club Discussion

Please join us on Wednesday, August 15 at 10:00a.m.

for a discussion of The love a good woman by Alice Munro

In this brilliant collection, the author takes mainly the lives of women - unruly, ungovernable, unpredictable, unexpected, funny, sexy and completely recognizable - and brings their hidden desires bubbling to the surface.

Winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature and the National Book Award

The F Street door will be open at 9:45 that morning. Everyone is welcome! Bring your own copy of the book, or check one out from the library.

Friday, August 17
1-3 pm, North side of the library
Meet Author Dennis Jones

Vice Admiral Dennis A. Jones, USN (Ret.) grew up in landlocked Fairbury, Nebraska, in the middle of flyover country. It was an unlikely starting place for someone who subsequently spent thirty-seven years in the Navy, serving on and commanding submarines.

Every day of my career I made decisions that were based on lessons that I had learned in Fairbury, Nebraska, and on a farm in Mahaska, Kansas... I knew that my childhood had given me the tools necessary to succeed and to approach situations in a logical manner. I had been taught to be decisive in my decision making, but most of all, I had been taught ... to listen... You can learn a lot from other people, good things and bad things, if you will just listen I made a career of it. And it all started while observing the good, bad, and stupid things that happened in my childhood parables.

Need a cake pan for a special occasion? No need to buy one, check it out from the library!

Current options are small, but we would like to add more. If you have a specialty cake pan sitting in your cupboard that you will never use again, bring it to the library and we will add it to our collection!
